

Toter®

Workplace Solutions For New Safety Guidelines

The Centers for Disease Control (CDC) and Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has provided guidance and set new safety standards as businesses and workplaces prepare to reopen following Covid-19 related closures. Guidance includes providing customers and the public with no-touch trash receptacles, heightened sanitation, and accessible trash bins to dispose of PPE.

Toter offers a variety of solutions to help you with requirements and recommendations of federal, state, provincial, and local authorities related to new safety and sanitation protocols relating to Covid-19.*

*Toter makes no representations, warranties or guarantees that these products will protect anyone from or prevent the spread of germs, viruses or bacteria. Please refer to the CDC and your state/local authorities for guidance on waste management at your facility.

STEP-ON CONTAINERS

MEDICAL CARTS

Toter's latching medical waste carts are designed specifically for the healthcare industry, and provide a safe, secure method for collecting, moving, and disposing of regulated medical waste. They feature smooth interior walls that are simple to clean and disinfect, and are available in multiple sizes, with or without caster wheels. Caster medical waste carts are great for heavier loads since the caster wheels eliminate the need to tilt the cart to roll it and help stabilize heavier loads.
